Our Seeds Tomorrow Hosts WHAT'S IN A DOCTOR'S BAG

Presented by Dr. Neil Shulmen

There are thousands of Liberian refugees in the Atlanta Metro and Clarkson communities. Many are in need of emergency services such as health and wellness care, educational advocates to help refugee parents communicate with teachers, translators, and resources that will help immigrant children and their families to adapt to American culture and society.

Our Seeds Tomorrow is committed to developing an advocacy organization, by helping post war Liberia immigrants in the Atlanta/ Clarkston area through our programs like: Welcoming & Cultural Orientation Workshops, Project Wealth & Success- After School Tutoring, English Classes, Field Trips, transportation and a web- based resource library that includes multilingual books, publications, and videos.

What: Neil Shuman M.D. the co-producer of Doc Hollywood presents What's in a Doctor's Bag. This fundraiser is a free wacky show for Atlanta kids and parents, which includes lunch and a discussion about the importance of a healthy lifestyle. The event is expected to raise thousands to support Our Seeds Tomorrow programs and services.
